
Gardening Together

About this Community

Grow skills and practical gardening projects together, whether you have a windowsill, a balcony, a yard, or access to a shared space. Ask a question, compare notes for your climate, or help choose a first community guide. Beginners and experienced growers are welcome. The community team provides starter discussions, and members decide which ideas to develop.

Sample Rules / Principles

- Ask permission and share responsibly

Do not assume access to land, permission for a project, or approval for spending. Credit photographs and guides, respect local restrictions, and keep private contact details out of public discussions.

- Put location and safety in context

Give a broad region or climate when it helps, but do not publish home addresses. Check local suitability before recommending a plant or treatment. Do not encourage eating unidentified plants or using uncertain chemical...

- Welcome different spaces and experience levels

Offer helpful explanations without belittling beginners or assuming everyone has a yard, specialist tools, or the same climate. These are starter guidelines from the community team, not a record of a member vote....

Scan to join or learn more

<https://ruletogether.com/230-gardening-together>